

Knowledge Management

At DTK Logistics, it's the management interest in having knowledge management system (KMS) supporting company daily operation. The management understands the need of knowledge management (KM) for better and more efficient operations, for time and resources saving, in-house training, staff motivation, etc.

DTK management's commitment in KM is expressed through the company policy, which states "... Human capital is our most valuable asset and it's most important factor influencing the quality of our services. We shall, as top priority (i) to encourage the learning, sharing and improvement of staff knowledge and expertise; (ii) (by) provide continuous and systematic training and (iii) build an advanced and motivating working environment ...".

The ultimate goal is not just to capture and share (existing) knowledge and expertise, but also to create (new) knowledge through continuous organizational learning.

Knowledge is power when shared!
